

Preamble

The 67th Indian Pharmaceutical Congress on the theme 'Pharmacist for a Healthy India' envisions how pharmacists can play a leadership role in the country and promote and realise the vision of 'Healthy India'. The strategies related to all facets of the pharma sector would be discussed. The Pharma Industry and the Regulatory Authorities would discuss as to how align themselves and ensure that there is a recipe for the growth of this sector and the health economy of the country. The Academia and Students would focus on bringing about industry-academia interaction and also quality assurance in pharmacy education so as to prepare an industry ready pharmaceutical work force. The Practicing Pharmacists from the community and hospital setting would deliberate on providing pharmaceutical care to the patients and serve as a bridge between the health professional and the patients to ensure that optimal and correct health care is delivered properly. All these initiatives at the 67th Indian Pharmaceutical Congress would be in the form of round table discussions, symposia, plenary lectures and scientific poster presentations.

The conference theme will stimulate discussions and thought processes as to how the country and the pharmacy profession should respond to and realise the vision envisaged by it. The scientific presentations, talks and discussions would dwell on how the broad strategies proposed below can influence the vision of a Healthy India.

1. Industry and Regulatory alignment for a new health economy.
2. Defining pharmaceutical care and providing a pharmaceutical care policy to be adopted by the pharmacy practitioners (community and hospital) in the practice settings.
3. Academic leadership that ensures the pharmacist is competent to rise to the expectations of the health care delivery of the country.
4. Inter-professional communication that would provide a seamless care to the patient from physician to pharmacists and to the other healthcare professionals (nurses, etc.) in the implementation of rational and safe use of medicines.
5. Pharmacists by providing pharmaceutical care at both community and hospital settings would ensure that the patient receives the right medicine at the right dose and at the right time.

All these are encapsulated in the symposia (3 tracks - Industry/Regulatory, Education and Practice); memorial lectures and plenary lectures and round table discussions and scientific poster presentations.

This folder makes an attempt to guide you through the various sessions so that you do not miss out the sessions of interest and importance to you.

The Scientific Committee is pleased to present to you this feast of Knowledge, Progress and Leadership.
